“ I was blessed by God to have been giving the opportunity to know and be friends with Nickola, when I worked for Boron LePore/Market Connections in the human resource department, she worked as payroll administrator. I will never forget the one thing that Nickola had that not many people have nowadays is that humility, which shined through her smiling face everyday. Even if I had a rough day, she showered me with her friendship, kindness and heart through our talks and laughter. Every word she said she meant and she exemplified such a strong spirit. She loved her husband and all her family members...and always cherished her nieces and nephews, b/c that was all she spoke about :-) Most of all, she and I had something in common...Singing! As we would share that talent during our karaoke nights and singing for a local TV program. She brought joy and tears...as well as goosebumps when she sang for my daughter's baptism. I had the pleasure of singing for her wedding...and I will never forget any moment I spent with her. Nic...Please know that you have touched so many! Your passion in song and children will always be your legacy. You will never be forgotten! I love you sweetie! I can hear you singing right now...
"You were always there for me, the tender wind that carried me
The light in the dark shining your love into my life
You've been my inspiration, through the lies you were the truth
My world is a better place because of you
Lifted me up when I couldn't reach
You gave me faith 'cause you believed
I'm everything I am
Because you loved me"

“ Nickie, I will miss you so much! You were amazingly kind to me when I was a struggling first-year teacher, in over my head and scared out of my mind. In the years we spent as partners at LWMS, I learned so much from you, both about teaching and friendship. I want you to know, I will try my hardest to continue your legacy of being a great teacher and a great friend. The world is darker without you in it, but I know I will see you again someday. Until then, rest peacefully, my beautiful friend.
